YEAR AT UCR // Class of 2018
CAREER POSITION // Academic Counselor, Community Engagement and Outreach, with UCR Undergraduate Admissions
TRANSFERRED FROM // Moreno Valley Community College

Career Path
UC Riverside offered me a career position right after graduation — that speaks volumes about how much they want you to succeed here at UCR. I am now working with the Undergraduate Admissions department as an admissions counselor and Umoja* advisor working directly with African-American transfer students. I am so thankful to have a platform where I can have a larger impact on students.

Opportunities and Support
I greatly benefited from African Student Programs, Career Center, Transfer Success Zone and Education Abroad — all of which were [vehicles] to great opportunities that included creating a thriving student organization, getting a jump start in a career that I love, providing me a space to connect with other transfer students and to travel the world.

Impacting the Future
I fell in love with the mentorship and research experience I gained from the University S.T.E.M. Academy (USA) at UCR. It gave me the opportunity to give back to my community by connecting with African-American students in grades six through nine to further engage them in S.T.E.M. subjects. I mentored these incredible kids and infused them with educational values, access to higher education and helped groom them to be future leaders in our community. This experience helped me discover my purpose.

Global Perspective
I was fortunate enough to participate in the UC Education Abroad Program. … Studying abroad made me more culturally well-rounded and, more importantly, a global leader. If you are considering studying abroad, get your passport and take the leap. There is a seat on a plane with your name on it.

Diving In

Some of my proudest moments at UCR were being in a class that deals with my major. I took biology and chemistry classes at my community college, but actually taking a class in neuroscience made me feel like I’m finally learning what I am interested in.

Lessons Learned

UCR taught me how many resources I need to achieve a good grade in the classes I’m taking, that includes going to office hours and going to supplemental instruction. … UCR has provided a lot of resources to help me succeed.

Community of Support

I was very lost in the whole college process because I am a first-generation student, so I didn’t even know how to apply to college. When the Puente* counselor talked about how they were a community of first-generation students who all wanted to transfer to a four-year university, I thought it was perfect for me. … Through Puente Connection at UCR I found people who have also been through the same experience.

Helping Hand

I had a student mentor who was also a neuroscience major. She helped me out with the classes I should take and also with activities going on in school.

YEAR AT UCR // 4th Year
MAJOR // Mechanical Engineering
TRANSFERRED FROM // Chaffey College

Motivated to Succeed
Coming to UCR from a community college is frightening at first, but I came here with the intent to better myself. The moment I chose to apply myself and take action was when I saw myself starting to grow with the campus.

Confidence and Accomplishment
One of my proudest moments was when I realized that I was surrounded by like-minded individuals. Being around these people helped me accomplish things I could not imagine doing before, such as becoming a director for the Associated Students Program Board (ASPB). Now I am confident that I am capable of achieving more.

Commitment and Hard Work
UCR has taught me the level of commitment and hard work needed to get through the engineering program. Some of the classes are pretty tough, and you get to know how strong you are. It’s on a different level than the community college level so you have to come prepared.

How Far I’ve Come
What keeps me going is how far I’ve come. Seeing how much time community college and getting here has taken, [this opportunity] is not to be taken for granted.

- Each course must be transferable and worth at least 3 semester (4–5 quarter) units.
