

CHASS COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES, ARTS, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES SELF-GUIDED TOUR

VISIT THE BUILDINGS, FACILITIES, AND OTHER CAMPUS LANDMARKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES, ARTS, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES.

2 HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES BUILDING – Home of the CHASS advising offices, CHASS FIRST, and the departments of History, Pre-Business, English, Philosophy, and Foreign Languages, which offers instruction in 14 different languages. Exit the Humanities and Social Sciences Building the same way you entered and take an immediate right along the walkway beneath the pillars.

3 SPROUL HALL – Next on the right is Sproul Hall. Sproul contains the Department of Economics as well as the Graduate School of Education, (recognized as the Nation's Most Distinguished Teacher Education Program by the Association of Teacher Educators). In the basement of Sproul, you'll find our state-of-the-art television studio.

4 WATKINS HALL – After leaving Sproul, take a right then an immediate left to Watkins Hall. Watkins is one of the five original campus buildings (1953) and is home to the departments of Anthropology, Sociology, and Political Science, as well as to one of the campus' several computer labs (featuring printers, free student printing, software and both MAC and PC computers).

5 OLMSTED HALL – Take a right on the next walkway and travel the length of Watkins Hall. Directly ahead of you is Olmsted Hall, to the right, the University Theater. Olmsted is the home of the Statistics, Business Administration, and the UC Mexus Institute. The University Theater is UCR's main venue for musical and theatrical performances.

6 PSYCHOLOGY – Beyond the Olmsted Arches is the Psychology Building – home of one of UCR's most popular majors. The Psychology building houses academic and departmental offices, research laboratories, and open class laboratories. To return to the tour, please retrace your steps back through the Olmsted Arches toward the Rivera Library.

7 8 CARILLON MALL – Stroll the walkway beneath the iconic Rivera Arches at Rivera Library, the main campus library that also houses archives and special collections. Up ahead you'll find the Bell Tower and, beyond that, the Highlander Union Building (HUB). Continue straight ahead, and just past the HUB, you'll find the UCR Campus Store. The Carillon Mall hosts events such as the graduate student fair and study abroad fair.

9 NORTH CAMPUS DRIVE – Continue ahead to North Campus Drive. Straight ahead you will see UCR's new Materials Science and Engineering Building. Go left. On your right you'll see athletic fields (softball, soccer, and track) and, off in the distance, the Student Recreation Center – recently expanded to include a huge outdoor pool, indoor track, rock climbing wall, more cardio and weight space, and more!

10 ARTS BUILDING – When you reach Canyon Crest Drive, take a left and the Arts Building will be on your right. The Arts Building, which houses the UCR Music Library, is a magnificent, one-of-a-kind facility that has won several awards for its architecture (Los Angeles American Institute of Architects). Our fine arts program has received generous grants from the Gluck Foundation and includes majors in theatre, music, dance, art, and art history.

11 CHASS INTERDISCIPLINARY BUILDING – Located directly across from the Arts Building is the CHASS Interdisciplinary Building, which opened its doors in 2007. It houses six departments (Creative Writing, Ethnic Studies, Gender & Sexuality Studies, Media & Cultural Studies, Religious Studies, and Theatre), several interdisciplinary programs including Global Studies and Liberal Studies, the UCR Multimedia Library, and the School of Public Policy.

1 STUDENT SERVICES BUILDING (SSB) – Continue straight ahead towards Hinderaker and then go left to the Student Services Building – the building where your tour began. The SSB houses the offices of admissions, financial aid, the cashier, the registrar, and campus tours. It also includes the convenient Highlander One-Stop Shop (HOSS).

This completes your CHASS tour. You may want to take a moment to stop in at the HUB to grab a bite to eat. Or feel free to wander around the rest of the campus, take a full campus tour, and learn more fun facts about UCR and its facilities.

SoBA SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

VISIT THE BUILDINGS, FACILITIES, AND OTHER CAMPUS LANDMARKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

5 OLMSTED HALL – In addition to serving as the home for the University Honors Program, Statistics, and UC Mexus Institute, Olmsted Hall is the home to the Undergraduate Business program for The School of Business Administration (SoBA). The AACSB-accredited SoBA is a nationally ranked and internationally recognized business school.

SoBA emphasizes growing strengths in the areas of finance, management, information systems, accounting and auditing, marketing and operations, and supply chain management. The undergraduate business major is intended for students who seek a professional education in the functional field of private sector management.

Up the hill and to the right of the Psychology Building, you can see the historic Anderson Hall — home of the A. Gary Anderson Graduate School of Management (AGSM). AGSM is one of the nation's fastest growing graduate business schools, and offers specialized programs such as the Flex MBA, Master in Finance (MFin), Master of Professional Accountancy (MPAc), traditional MBA, or Interdepartmental Graduate Program in Management (IGPM), in addition to the Ph.D. program.
